

IMMIGRATION ALERT!

INS ACTIVELY ENFORCING LAW ON CHANGE OF ADDRESS

In direct response to the events of September 11th, the INS is aggressively enforcing a "change of address" law that has been on the books for many years. This law requires all non-U.S. citizens living in the United States to report changes in address to the Immigration and Naturalization Service ("INS") within 10 days of the address change. The individual is required to announce the address change through filing Form AR-11 with the INS in Washington, D.C. Non-U.S. citizens who do not report a change of address within 10 days could be fined up to $200.00, spend up to 30 days in jail -- or both. In a worst case scenario, an individual could be deported if he or she is unable to provide a reasonable excuse for the lack of notification. The Form AR-11 and accompanying instructions can be found below. Please let us know if you have further questions.

Public Reporting Burden. Under the Paperwork Reduction Act, an agency may not conduct or sponsor an information collection and a person is not required to respond to an information collection unless it displays a currently valid OMB control number. We try to create forms and instructions that are accurate, can be easily understood, and which impose the least possible burden on you to provide us with information. Often this is difficult because some immigration laws are very complex. This collection of information is estimated to average 5 minutes per response, including the time for reviewing instructions, searching existing data sources, gathering and maintaining the data needed, and completing and reviewing the collection of information. Send comments regarding this burden estimate or any other aspect of this collection of information, including for reducing this burden to: Immigration and Naturalization Service, 425 I Street, N.W., Room 4034, Washington, DC 20536; OMB No. 1115-0003. *Do not mail your completed form to this address.
