Our Practice

Whistleblower & Corporate Internal Investigations. Our team is comprised of highly skilled employment and health care litigators, former prosecutors, environmental and OSHA attorneys, and corporate compliance specialists who provide comprehensive support for internal investigations and whistleblower claims. We take a proactive approach to addressing the complex employment challenges that arise in whistleblower matters. These cases often require navigating critical issues such as accounting irregularities, corporate governance, fiduciary responsibilities, executive compensation, and domestic and foreign bribery. With firsthand experience in high-profile global prosecutions and corporate defense cases, we know how to conduct thorough, cost-effective, and proportionate investigations that protect your organization. Our smart tools and strategic insights help clients minimize compliance risks, protect privacy, and safeguard their reputation—all while mitigating the likelihood of future litigation. We partner with businesses to assess, audit, and modernize their ethics and compliance programs, ensuring they remain resilient in the face of regulatory scrutiny.

Workplace Investigations & Crisis Response. Our team is highly experienced in handling complex claims involving harassment, bullying, discrimination, and executive misconduct. We help businesses navigate high-profile cases, manage executive departures, and minimize the fallout of workplace crises. Beyond employment matters, we take a holistic approach to crisis management—helping clients respond effectively to IT security breaches, media scrutiny, data protection concerns, and other reputational risks. We also anticipate potential shareholder litigation stemming from crises, ensuring that boards and companies are prepared to manage event-driven legal challenges. Our goal is not only to resolve immediate issues, but also to strengthen our clients' resilience against future risks. Whether facing an internal investigation, regulatory scrutiny, or a workplace crisis, we provide the strategic guidance and legal expertise needed to protect your business.
