

Global Pay Equity Desktop Reference

Pay Equity Reporting Laws Around the World

March 2023

Dear Clients and Friends,

There is a global call for greater transparency around employee pay. For multinational organizations, tracking the ever-changing global pay equity reporting obligations can pose daunting challenges. To simplify the process, we are pleased to provide you with our third annual Global Pay Equity Desktop Reference: Pay Equity Reporting Laws Around the World.

This desk reference gives an overview of important pay equity reporting dates and deadlines in more than 60 countries around the world that often serve as key employment hubs.

The information contained in the booklet is purposely condensed and simplified; while it provides a convenient point of reference, always consult with your attorney before making any decisions as the law is constantly changing. This booklet does not constitute legal advice or create an attorney-client relationship. For additional information, please email payequity@seyfarth.com.

Other Notable Global Reporting Requirements

Austria: First quarter, every two years.

Belgium: Every two years.

Finland: Every two years.

Germany: Every five years for employers bound by CBA, every three years for all other employers (subject to employee threshold requirements). Filed within three months of the end of the business year. More developments expected with respect to enforcement of women's rights to information about pay of male colleagues.

Ireland: In December, 6 months after the snapshot date chosen by employers in June.

Italy: Biannual report required for companies with more than 50 employees. In March 2022, the government introduced the possibility for companies to obtain a certification for gender equality.

Japan: Within an approximate of three months after ending the fiscal year. Companies with fiscal year in March - April are required to publish their results for the period April 2022 - March 2023 by the end of June 2023.

Lithuania: Every four years - by April 23 - for certain earnings and labor cost statistics. Quarterly - until the 18th day after the expiration of the reporting quarter - for certain payment statistics.

Luxembourg: Every two years, with no specific date, but required to provide the staff delegation with these statistics twice a year.

Netherlands: Draft bill that would introduce pay reporting requirements is currently under consideration.

Norway: Within six months after the end of the financial year, and employers must review "pay conditions by reference to gender" every two years.

Quebec, Canada: Varies for each company, depending on things such as size and other prior filings.

South Africa: January 15, subject to employee threshold and related to pay in previous calendar year, for employers qualifying as "designated employers."

Spain: There is no specific annual deadline or date upon which companies have to file the Equality Plan. It depends on when the company becomes obliged to prepare it.

Sweden: Annually, starting from when the company first began the reporting.

Switzerland: Repeated every four years following first filing, which was due latest June 30, 2021.

United States: Illinois: On date assigned by the Illinois DOL and every two years thereafter. First Certificate to be obtained by March 23, 2024.

About the Practice

We combine legal expertise with industry-leading statistical capabilities to provide global pay equity solutions that assess and mitigate risk.

Pay equity is at the forefront of legal issues facing employers today. New equal pay, transparency, and reporting laws within the United States and across the globe present new risks and opportunities for employers.

Seyfarth's dedicated Pay Equity Group offers a strategic and data-centered approach to pay equity compliance. Our attorneys, in-house labor economists and data analysts make complex statistical analyses simple to understand. Seyfarth's deep knowledge of the pay laws and commitment to innovation gives us the tools to help you operationalize pay equity programs and minimize the risk of litigation. If disputes cannot be avoided, Seyfarth leads in managing complex bet-the-company pay equity claims and single-plaintiff litigation.
