

BIOGRAPHY

THOMAS FUHRMAN, CISSP

Managing Director

CURRENT RESPONSIBILITIES

Thomas Fuhrman is Managing Director of cybersecurity consulting at Marsh Advisory, delivering cybersecurity consulting services in the United States and working across Marsh & McLennan's operating companies on a broad range of cyber initiatives.

EXPERIENCE

Tom is an experienced cybersecurity consultant with over 20 years in the business. He has served in consulting leadership roles as a senior vice president and partner at Booz Allen Hamilton, president of Delta Risk, and founder and president of 3tau LLC. His consulting experience spans many industry sectors including financial, manufacturing, education, automotive, energy and water utilities, retail, ecommerce, and others. Tom leads a team of professionals that has helped many clients understand their cyber exposure and improve their cybersecurity programs to reduce business risks.

A recognized thought leader in cybersecurity, he has presented leading ideas in cybersecurity to many audiences through diverse channels.

Earlier in his career, he served on the staff of the White House Office of Science and Technology Policy (OSTP) where he focused on the then-emerging issue of Critical Infrastructure Protection. He authored the OSTP publication CYBERNATION: The American Infrastructure in the Information Age, a landmark report on cybersecurity and Critical Infrastructure Protection.

Tom had a previous career in aerospace. He served in the US Air Force, graduated from the Air Force Test Pilot School, and flew the SR-71 Blackbird, the world's fastest and highest flying airplane. He was also propulsion program manager in the National Aero-Space Plane (NASP) hypersonic vehicle program office, among other accomplishments.
